

Name: _____

Date: _____ Period: _____

Worksheet: Gastropods

Directions: Read each question carefully and circle the correct answer below.

- Which of the following is an example of a gastropod?
 - scallops
 - mussels
 - snail
 - oysters
- How much of the entire mollusk family do gastropods account for?
 - 1/2
 - 1/3
 - 2/3
 - none of the above
- What is the definition to the term univalve?
 - one shell
 - one eye stalk
 - one stomach
 - one way digestive tract
- What is the meaning of gastropod?
 - stomach-foot
 - head-foot
 - shell-foot
 - none of the above
- What color is a gastropods blood?
 - red
 - purple
 - blue
 - colorless
- What are the shells of most gastropods built from?
 - calcium carbonate
 - carbonate carbonate
 - potassium chloride
 - none of the above
- How does a snail and other marine gastropods breathe?
 - Taking in oxygenated water in through its siphon tube.
 - Taking in carbon dioxide through its siphon tube.
 - Taking in oxygenated water in through its anterior tentacles.
 - Taking in carbon dioxide in through its anterior tentacles.
- What is the thick pad of tissue that closes like a trapdoor over the gastropods foot?
 - radula
 - operculum
 - univalve
 - none of the above
- What is the ribbon like tooth that is used for scraping off and ingesting algae??
 - radula
 - operculum
 - univalve
 - none of the above
- What gastropod uses a harpoon to spear and inject toxins into its prey?
 - Moon Snail
 - Cone Snail
 - Gary the Snail
 - Cresant Snail